

DELAY IN PACKERS' CASE.

Court Grants Time to Show Value of Stockyards

With the consent of the Department of Justice Justice Stafford of the District Supreme Court today granted a delay of two weeks for the preparation of testimony as to the value of the stockyards, in which interests are owned by American & Co. and Swift & Co. April 11 counsel for the government and for the packers will meet in court to have limitations of time set for the taking of this evidence and for hearing of testimony in open court concerning the value of these properties.

The court refused to accept the plan of these two packing concerns for the disposal of these interests through sale agents to be selected by the packers, who were to act under direction of trustees chosen by the court. The taking of this valuation, then became necessary.

Assistant Attorney General Frank R. Nebeker has been assigned by the Department of Justice to handle the packers' cases in the place of former Assistant Attorney General Kreschel.

Armstrong to Mr. Paul R. Carter took place Saturday afternoon at the residence of the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Joseph C. Carter, 1439 Meridian place northwest.

The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was rendered by Miss Helen Black, who also sang two soprano solos. Miss Black is a soloist at the Kellar Lutheran Memorial Church. The ring ceremony was used, the Rev. Lemski, pastor of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiating. The bride, before coming to Washington, lived in Cincinnati, Ohio. The bridegroom, who is connected with the United States geological survey, served a number of years in the United States Army, having seen service at Bismarck, Ariz., during the Mexican troubles, and was on active duty in France and England during the entire period of the world war.

The parlors were prettily decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and spring blossoms. After receiving congratulations a wedding feast was served.

Moving pictures of the scenes of the wedding and groups of the Armstrong and Carter families were taken. The moving pictures will be shown by Mr. Joseph C. Carter, brother of the bridegroom, after the return of the bridal couple.

After a ten-day trip to New York, Philadelphia and other eastern points, the couple will reside in this city, where the bridegroom recently purchased a residence.

The guests present were limited to the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, and were: Mrs. George I. Carter, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Mary Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. C. Carter, Miss Hattie Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Ritchie, Miss Edith Armstrong, Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. and Mrs. Dwight T. Scott, Cambridge, Ohio; Mr. Charles Thorne, Columbus, Ohio, and Henry J. Frank, Urbana, Ohio.
